Lenten Dollar Days 2024

Lenten Dollar Days at SPT

"Each of you must give as you have made up your mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver." -2 Corinthians 9:7

This Lenten Season, SPT will be hosting a number of special theme days. We invite your child to donate $1 or more to participate in the theme day. The money raised each theme day will go towards Holy Spirit schools' partnership project with St. Odilia School through Chalice International.

Your child has decorated the poster on the back of this page. Please display this somewhere in your home so you know when the theme days are. Below is more information about Holy Spirit's Initiative with Chalice.

Our new 'sister school' is St. Odilia School for the Visually Impaired. We have partnered with Chalice, the Canadian Catholic child sponsorship organization, as part of their School Connections program.

Hundreds of Chalice's sponsored students attend St. Odilia. It is one of very few schools in Zambia that serves children with visual impairments, physical disabilities, and albinism. It is a Catholic school, run by the Sisters of the Child Jesus.

Almost 500 students travel from wide swaths of the country to live on campus and experience a great education that's tailored to their unique needs.

Chalice has been supporting St. Odilia since 2011, as part of their Kawambwa sponsor site. Over that time, Chalice has installed water and solar power in the school, launched a robust school farm, and supported their campus meal program.

St. Odilia School has become so popular, it's becoming a challenge! The enrollment is increasing yearly, but the school's infrastructure hasn't been updated since it was built in the 1960s.

There are now too few classrooms to accommodate all the grade levels comfortably. Students are cramped and uncomfortable. The teachers don't have the space to engage with each child in the hands-on ways they need to learn. Often, they resort to taking their classes outside or elsewhere on campus.

The Holy Spirit schools are partnering with Chalice to build a new classroom block for St. Odilia. It will be a block with three classrooms and two offices. The new space will be fresh, spacious, and bright.

- St. Katharine Drexel

St. Katharine Drexel 1858-1955 (Feast Day: March 3)

Katharine Drexel was born into a wealthy American family, and despite some personal hardship, grew up in relative comfort, with private tutors and the ability to travel widely. Her family was also very dedicated to prayer and service; they supported the poor and needy of their community from their abundant wealth. During a family trip to the western states, Katharine saw the plight of the Indigenous peoples of the west, met the Sioux leader Red Cloud, and began to send financial support to western missionaries.

In a later visit to Europe, Katharine met Pope Leo XIII and, after describing what she had seen and experienced in the western United States, asked him to send more missionaries to that area. She was surprised when the Pope suggested that she become a missionary! After prayer and spiritual direction, Katharine indeed joined a religious order, later founding another order known today as the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament. She used her wealth to finance the establishment of over 60 schools and missions across the United States that served the various First Nations and African-American communities, never hesitating to speak out against racial injustice and discrimination. Katharine passed away in 1955 at the age of 96. When Katharine was canonized, Pope John Paul II made specific mention of her courage and initiative in addressing social inequality, her perspective on the unity of all peoples, and her love of the Eucharist.

Build! Pilgrims of Hope

"Building" In Our Schools

Building in our schools and in our communities! On Tuesday, February 13th, students and staff at Children of St. Martha spread love and kindness to the community by hosting a "Take What You Need" event. The students created "heart art", which was placed on the fence in the bus loop. The community was invited to stop by and take whatever they wanted. Whether picking something up, or simply driving by, the art is a creative demonstration that we are all loved by God.

Corporal Works of Mercy — Clothe the Naked —

Living in southern Alberta in the wintertime is a clear reminder of our basic human need for clothing! When we think of Clothing the Naked, we often think of that literal level which is very important - but so also is the wider work of mercy that can be applied. This is outlined by Philip Kosloski in this article from the National Catholic Register. In it, he notes:

"When we search out the 'naked' of our local community, we shouldn't only be looking for those without clothes. We should also look for those who are rejected, alone, and forgotten. They too are 'naked,' without friends or family, stripped of all meaningful human relationships. They are like the man in the parable of the 'Good Samaritan.' He was not only stripped of his clothes, beaten and left for dead, but also completely alone. Numerous people passed him by and no one extended a hand. He was treated like he was invisible."

Consider one of the following suggestions from the McGrath Institute at Notre Dame:

- Give up a particular item that you might normally spend money on and donate the funds to an organization that might be in need.
- Donate clothing (new or in good condition)
- Hold a baby shower for a mom in need.
- Consider reaching out to organizations that help children who might be in foster care or living in a shelter.

Pope's Prayer Intentions - For New Martyrs

Let us pray that those who risk their lives for the Gospel in various parts of the world might imbue the Church with their courage and missionary drive.

Catholic Social Teaching — Economic Justice —

Through the course of this year, we will look each month at one of the Catholic Social Teachings. The aim of Catholic Social Teaching is to shine the light of the Gospel on our contemporary world, allowing us as disciples of Christ to look at the world around us with new eyes, and to take action.

Last month, we looked at solidarity as the need to recognize our interdependence, to see ourselves in others and to seek to secure their good. One area in which we can see this specifically is economic justice. Many papal encyclicals that are now part of the magisterium of the church speak to economic justice. In 1891, with the release of the encyclical Rerum Novarum, Pope Leo XIII responded to the conditions of the Industrial Revolution by highlighting both the need for private property as well as the rights of workers to fair wages and unions. More recently, we have seen Pope Francis write encyclicals such as Laudato Si and Fratelli Tutti, in which he is critical of our 'throwaway culture' and speaks of a need for integral ecology in which to balance economic development with the environment. Throughout all of these encyclicals, we see the Church advocating for just economic systems that are rooted in the need to address both individual human dignity and the common good.

Gospel Readings

March 3 2024

3rd Sunday in Lent

Gospel Reading: John 2:13-25

"Take these out of here, and stop making my Father's house a marketplace." — John 2:16

Today in the Gospel we see that Jesus was angry with the way people viewed his Father's house. It makes me think about how we view God's house today. Would Jesus be happy with the way we act in church? Do we rush in and out because we have better things planned for our day, or do we take a few extra minutes to speak privately with Jesus? Do we prepare ourselves by the way we dress and quiet ourselves before we enter into the church knowing that Jesus is truly present there in the Eucharist? Do we genuflect out of respect? When we do these things we show God how much we love him.

What are some ways your family prepares for Mass? What could you change to prepare better?"

Prayer:

Dear Lord, we want to honor and worship you when we spend time in your house. Please give us the grace to fight off temptations of distraction so we may love and glorify you by our presence in church.

March 10, 2024

4th Sunday in Lent

Gospel Reading: John 3:14-21

"For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved through him." — John 3:17

Some people think God is like an angry judge. They forget that he is a loving parent. He loves each one of us as his own children. Ask your parents how much they love you. It may be hard for them to express all the love they have for you in their hearts. But parents love their children a lot, wanting the best for them. God wants that for us, too. He saw that we needed to know his love, and the best way to show us was to send his Son. But he didn't stop there. He allowed his Son to show us God's love all the way to the cross. Jesus laid down his life for us, and then rose from the dead to love us even more. Our God really loves us a lot!

How do you view God? As an angry judge or a loving parent? Are you afraid of him or do you run into God's arms for love?

Prayer:

Dear Lord, thank you for being a Father who is willing to go to any length to show us, your children, that you love us.

Gospel Readings

Gospel Reading: John 12:20-33

“Whoever loves his life loses it, and whoever hates his life in this world will preserve it for eternal life.” — John 12:25

Today’s scripture from the Gospel sounds kind of confusing. Most of us like our lives. It is hard to understand why we would lose it just because we like it. But I think that Jesus is looking deeper than what meets the eye. In different words, “whoever loves his life more than God will lose it and whoever puts God first will gain eternal life.” If we live our lives only to please ourselves, we lose out in the end. But if we learn to put God first in our lives, we take steps closer to being with him forever in heaven.

What are ways I put myself ahead of God? How can I make a change to start putting God before myself?

Prayer:

Dear Lord, help me to put you first, even before all the things I want. Teach me to seek you in all I do.

Gospel Reading: Mark 14:1-15:47

“...every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.” — Philippians 2:11

Today we reflect on Christ’s passion and death. In the midst of the story it is hard to believe that “every tongue will confess that Jesus Christ is Lord.” Most voices at this moment are condemning him. There are only a few people that are standing by him, suffering with him. There are times in life when we have the choice to be a person who stands for God, even it’s really difficult, or to be a person of anger, betrayal, and abandonment.

Which voice will you have in this week before Easter? Which side will you be on, Christ’s or the world’s?

Prayer:

Lord, you suffered because of your great love for us. Give me a voice to tell people how important you are to me!

Gospel Reading: John 20:1-18

“...he saw and believed.” — John 20:8

Those who went to the tomb to see that Jesus was not there—that he had risen—were indeed blessed. But Jesus said, “Blessed are those who believe without seeing.” That’s us! We believe because of the stories we have been told, the traditions that have been passed down to us, the experiences we have had through Holy Week and Easter. We are blessed to have the gift of faith to hear and believe that: Jesus Christ is Risen today! Alleluia!!!

What does God want to bring to life in you today?

Prayer:

Dear Lord, we praise you and thank for this Easter Sunday that reminds us of your gift of salvation. We are forever grateful for such a gift!
